THE SHIRT-TAIL LAMENT.

"A rose by any other name," would not always "smell as sweet," nor would the story of a catastrophe happening at "Communipaw" or "Quohog," be quite as impressive in the telling as one located at "Bellefontaine," or "Beauvale." Even "Shin Hollow," as the scene of the late Erie disaster was somewhat badly chosen. "What is in a name" may be well observed by reading the following in the Philadelphia Sunday Transcript: The steamer Belle Key, just arrived from below, reports that the steamer California, recently sunk at Shirt-Tail Bend, in the Mississippi river, will prove a total loss. The Belle Key took off her passengers, and a great part of her cargo:

Weep for the noble bark!
Mourn o'er her hapless end,
When the waves were wild and the sky was dark
Around the Shirt-Tail Bend.

Wail for the perish'd crew!
The fair one and the friend,
They shriek'd a wild a last adieu,
And sank, at Shirt-Tail Bend!

Dread then the dark sky's frown,
The waves the bold bark rend,
And hopes and lives and joys went down,
All lost at Shirt-Tail Bend.

Weep for the noble bark,
The lot which stern fates send;
Her tall mast falls, and horror! hark,
That shriek o'er Shirt-Tail Bend!

'Tis o'er; the tale iz told!
And fleets now silent wend
O'er the gulfy deep where sleep the bold
That sleep at Shirt-Tail Bend!

FOLLOW THE RIGHT.

Unawed by numbers, follow Nature's plan.
Assert the rights, or quit the state of man;
Consider well, weigh strictly right and wrong;
Resolve not xuick, but once resolved, be strong.
In spite of dullness, and in spite of wit,
If to thyself thou canst thyself acquit,
Rather stand up assured, with conscious pride,
Alone, than err with millions on thy side.

How Sal and me got Married.

BY PETER SPORUN, ESQ.

Well, at last the nite cum—that orful nite as was to fetch me intoo a new state of bein, an it found me in a dreadful fix; fust I felt good, then bad; fust proud, and then skeered like five hundred. I went over the mornin before the eventful nite, to see Sal, and foun her takin it mity easy—rather in a hurry for nite to cum, I thought. As for me, I was in a hurry wun minnit, and the next I felt like I'd rather a little it had bin put off.

After supper I washed, then I put on the cleanest sort uv a shirt that Aunt Jane had fixed up mity nice and smooth, and drawd on about as nice a set uv Sunday harness as you ever seed; an arter mam and Aunt Jane had primped up and fixed my har and creevat, I wus reddy; so off I puts to Sal's dad's, an I reckin I dun about as much thinkin a goin over thar as wus ever dun by enny other feller in the same time. At last I arrived an was marched in too whar Sal wus—she sorter blushed, and then sot her head on wun side, an looked about as sweet as enny flour you ever seed. I thought she wus about as putty a creetur as ever I lade my ise on.

Direckly Sal's sister sez, "The parson's cum," an in we marched whar thar was about fifty fokes, an I felt mity bad an mity skeered, but I tride my level best to keep up a stiff upder lip. Well, we tuk our places, Sal a hangin on my arm, an me a lookin at the flore. Then the parson ses, ses he, "Du you tak this wooman (he mite a sed young lady) as you hold by the hand, to be your lawful wife, to help her an to keep her, to love her an to nus her till deth dus you part?" "I'll do my best, ses I, (standin fust on one foot an then on the other, for all the world like a turkey on a hot rock.)

Then he looked at Sal, an ses he, "Du yu tak this man (like he didn't no my naim,) as yu hold by the hand, to be your lawful husband, to nus him, an to oner an obey him til deth dus yu part?" "Yes sir," says Sal.

"Then," says he, "I pronounce you man an wife. Salute yer bride."

With that I clinched Sal, an gin her about as harty a buss as you ever heerd; then the fellers all cum round an kissed Sal lik blases. You could see that it dun em good frum the way they pitched in. I thot Sal orter a stopped it, but she never sed a wurd. As fur me, I kissed rite and left, and cum near kissin a nigger gal as wus fetchin in sum water, when everybody begins a gigglin, an I begins to feel mity mean. Arter a while the kissin and foolin wus all over, an we pitched in too the goodies, an if ever I saw sweet things fly, it was then. I et till I liked to a popped, an everybody else dun thar best.

About 10 o'clock they all left, an sum of the boys ses, "Pete, wunt you go hum with us?" an all such things, a devlin uv me til I hardly noed what to do or whar to go. Arter they all left, there I sot by myself till a nigger gal came to the dore an ses:

"Massa Peter, Miss Sal's waitin for you."

"Whar is she?" ses I.

"She's in her room," ses she.

"Well, tell her to cum down," ses I; "I'm reddy to go enny whar she wants."

"But she's in bed," ses she.

"Oh—yes," ses I—"I forgot—but"—ses I, "It's early yet, ain't it?"

She seed I wus skeered, an begin a snigerin, till I picked up my hat an follered her til she cum to a dore an ses, "That's yur room." My hart jumped up to my throat as I nocked at the dore, but nobody answered. I nocked agin, an then gettin desprit, opened it. Jeewhilikins! the cold chills run over me til I felt like somebody wus a pullin a cedar bush up an down my back. Thar was Sal, fast asleep (pretendin like, as I found out) an the candle shinin lite as day!

I stood sum time lookin mity foolish, an then puts my hat on a cheer—next I drew my cote off—it was mity hard to git off; then I shed my jacket an the balance of my harness, till I cum to my boots, an ef ever I saw a pair of tite boots, them wus the wuns. I pulled—I tugged—an jerked—but they wouldn't cum off—an happenin to look round, I thot I seed Sal a peepin at me outer wun eye, so I blose the lite out, gits my boots off, an then ———, but it ain't nobody's biziness, so I shan't tell any more.

"Well, I've tride marryin sum time, an must say that arter a feller gets used to it, it aint a bad thing; in fact, I filosofise as follers:

Marryin is a good thing—it is a great thing—as Aunt Jane ses, a great institution—(how she noes I can't tell, for she never had a chance to try it.) It's good for everybody. Ar you old? marry, it will make you young (or you'll die a tryin to appear so.) Ar you young? it'll make you old. In fact, it is sooted to every man an eny body. It's a ten-rail fence that society has quilt up to keep fokes inside the bounds of good behavior; and though I've had my ups and downs in it, and know all about it, still I say, hooray for marry.

DOUGLAS AND LINCOLN.—The following is an extract from the opening speech of Senator Douglas, in the great debate between him and Mr. Lincoln, his opponent for the Senate, at Ottowa, Illinois, on the 21st of August:

In the remarks which I have made upon this platform, and the position of Mr. Lincoln upon it, I mean nothing personal, disrespectful or unkind to that gentleman. I have known him for nearly twenty-five years. We had many points of sympathy when I first got acquainted with him.—We were both, comparatively, boys—both struggling with poverty in a strange land for our support—I an humble school-teacher in the town of Winchester, and he a flourishing grocery-keeper in the town of Salem. [Laughter.] He was more successful in his occupation than I, and hence became more fortunate in this world's goods. Mr. Lincoln is one of those peculiar men that has performed with admirable skill in every occupation that he ever attempted. I made as good a school-teacher as I could, and when a cabinet-maker, I made the best bed-steads and tables, but my old boss said I succeeded better in bureaus and secretaries than in anything else. [Laughter.] But I believe that Mr. Lincoln was more sucessful in his business than I, for his business soon carried him directly into the Legislature. There I met him in a little time, and I had a sympathy for him, because of the up-hill struggle that we had in life. [Cheers and laughter.] He was then as good at telling an anecdote as now. He could beat any of the boys at wrestling—could out run them at a foot race—beat them at pitching quoits and tossing a copper—and could win more liquor than all the rest of the boys put together [cheers and laughter]; and the dignity and impartiality with which he presided at a horse race or a fist fight were the praise of everybody that was present and participated. [Renewed laugter] Hence I had a sympathy for him, because he was struggling with misfortune and so was I.

BADGERING A WITNESS.—It seems that Mr. Jones loaned Mr. Smith a horse, which died in his (Smith's) possession.—Mr. Jones brought a suit to recover the value of the horse, attributing his death to bad treatment. During the course of the trial a witness (Mr. Brown) was called to the stand, to testify as to how Mr. Smith treated horses.

Lawyer (with a scarce perceptible flush of vexation upon his check, but still speaking in his smoothest tones)—"But, sir, what kind of a gait does he ride?"

Lawyer (his bland smile gone, and his voice slightly husky)—"But how does he ride when in company with others?"

Witness—"Keeps up, if his horse is able, if not, he goes behind!"

Lawyer (triumphantly, and in a perfect fury)—"How does he ride when he is alone, sir?"

Witness—"Don't know—never was with him when he was alone, sir."

Moscow.

The following strikingly beautiful description of a bird's eye view of Moscow forms the conclusion of one of Bayard Taylor's recent letters from Russia. Nobody has such a faculty for seeing as Taylor, nor such a graphic manner of picturing what he sees. He is looking at the city of domes and minarets from the Sparrow Hills; and says:

"You are inclosed with a belt of birch and pine woods. Under you the river reflects the sky, and beyond it sweep blossoming meadows up to surburban gardens, over which rises the long line of the gilded city, whose nearest domes seem to dash in your very face, and whose farthest towers fade against the sky. Their long array fills one third of the horizon. I counted between five and six hundred, one third of which were either gilded or silvered. The dome of the new cathedral, as large as that of St. Paul's, London, burned in the center like a of globe flame—like the sun itself, with stars and constellations sparkling around it far and wide. From this point the advanced guard of Napoleon's army first saw Moscow—a vast, silent, glittering city, fired by the sunset, and with the seed of a more awful splendor in its heart. No wonder that the soldiers stood still, by a spontaneous impulse, grounded their arms, and exclaimed, as one man: "Moscow! Moscow!"

"I saw this wonderful picture on a still, sultry afternoon. The woods and meadows, the thousand towers of the city, were bathed in bright sunshine; but beyond the latter lowered, black as ink, a pile of thunder clouds. The threatening background rose, letting fall a shifting curtain of dark gray, from the feet of which whirled clouds of tawny dust, vailing the splendor of the distant domes. As the storm advanced, columns of dust arose, here and there, all over the city; a shadow, as of night, crept across it, leaving only the nearer spires to blaze with double splendor against the black chaos. Presently the more distant portions of the city were blotted out. The brighter towers remained for a time visible, shining spectrally through the fallling cloud, and seeming to be removed far back into the depths of the atmosphere. The sound of hail and rain, crashing on the metal roofs, reached our ears; the last golden dome stood yet a moment in the sunshine, and then everything swam in the chaos of dust and storm. So vail by vail fell over the magical scene, and as the whirlwind reached us, a void, black and impenetrable, hid it from our eyes. We had again witnessed the destruction of Moscow."

The Confessoins of a Nurse.

"I'm dying, doctor—I find it. You're sure I am dying, ain't you?" interrupted she, changing her solemn tones for very shrill ones, "you're quite sure." "We are sure of nothing," said I, gravely;" you are very seriously ill." I know, exclaimed she, bitterly, relapsing into her melancholy phase again, "that is what all you doctors say; but it means death. Oh, sir, I have been a very, wicked woman indeed. I have something—I have three things on my mind, which it will do me good, I think, to get disburdened of; they will kill me else, I feel, of their own selves. And, sir, I have not got a soul in the world to tell them to, only you." So this dreadful old person had, indeed, dragged me out of my warm bed for the purpose of reposing in me a dangerous confidence, which my own good nature invited. "Do you remember the very stout gentleman, Carnabasses?" "446. Pleurisy. Left convalescent?" inquired I, from memory. "The same, sir. I bled him to death, doctor, at his own house within the week.—His friends paid me by the job, you see, and I was anxious to get it over."—"Good heavens!" cried I; "and to save yourself a little trouble, you committed then a cruel murder?" "He went off like a lamb," cried the wretched creature, apologetically. "But there is worse than that—I once gave a young gent four doses of laudanum in one, and you wouldn't a known when he was dead from when he slept. But them was murders for all that I know." "They certainly were, miserable woman!" cried I, indignantly.—"Have you anything yet more upon your mind?" "Hush!" whispered she, pointing towards the door; "she's listening; they always does it, bless you—I knows 'em so well; once, only once, as I'm a sinful woman; I smothered a sick man with a pillow—that was for his money; he would have died any way, because he had the lock-jaw." "Now," added she, with a long drawn sigh, and after a pause, "I feel somehow better and more comfortable like—thanks to you, sir."

The patient had suuk back from her sitting posture, as if exhausted with this terrible narration; but I read in her yet anxious eyes that she had still something more to say. Presently she again broke silence, and this time the emphasis with which she spoke was mingled with a tone of gratitude. She desired to recompense me, I suppose, for my prompt attention and interest, and delivered herself of this advice instead of a fee:—"When your time comes, doctor, and your friends send for the nuss, don't let them pay her by the job."

"HALF AND HALF"—A gallant young gentlemen, living in Bristol co., Mass., took the young lady he was paying attentions to to Boston to see the sights on the Fourth. On his return from the pleasure trip, he presented one-half of the bill of expenses to the lady's father for payment. The gentleman peremptorily refused to liquidate the claim, and politely, but somewhat emphatically, requested the pecuniary lover not to call at his house either on the next or any number of coming Sunday nights.

THE GILA GOLD MINES.

These mines at present are attracting some attention. Gold has been believed to abound upon the Gila for a long time by those best qualified to know. Californians at this river and on the Colorado, in coming to this country, heard these reports, and many have stated that they have seen gold in considerable quantities in the hands of the Indians.—Fears of the Apaches, who are numerous and hostile, has prevented the exploration and examination of the country to any extent. The attractions of California too, have hindered the development of the mineral resources of that region. Emigrants would hardly stop in uncertainty of finding gold and a certainty of having Indians to fight, when the gold placers of this State were near at hand and known to be rich and extensive.

In regard to the mines, we are informed by Maj. WHITTIER, whose arrival here from St. Louis overland we noticed last week, that he was at Fort Yuma, on the Gila, about the first of October, and that then gold had been discovered for some distance above the Fort in the gulches which empty into the main stream. That he and his party spent five days in prospecting and making examinations; the result of which was the finding of gold in every place examined, but in small quantities. A number of miners were at work, but so far as could be ascertained, none were getting more than very moderate wages. The gold region is of the roughest and wildest description, and almost inaccessable. Dirt is difficult to obtain, and when obtained, it has to be carried to the river to be washed, as there is no water any where else.

Maj. W. met with an acquaintance, formerly a miner in Agua Frio, at work in a gulch three-fourths of a mile from the river. Dirt was carried some distance in buckets, and then carted to the stream.—From one load the Maj. saw $16 washed. The miner before spoken of employed two men at $6 per day each. The difficulty of obtaining dirt, and the further difficulty of getting it to the stream, reduced the daily profits of the proprietor to an amount not exceeding that paid his workmen.

Maj. W. also states that he saw an old Indian exhibiting about $40 in coarse gold, and stated that he obtained it near a certain mountain which he pointed out, and which the Maj. thought to be 30 miles off. The Indian farther said that gold there was very abundant, but the Apaches were plenty and mucho mala. The Indian had, it appeared, barely escaped with his life. The Major's party saw nothing to warrant stopping on the Gila, and all came on.

BOARD OF SUPERVISORS.

The Board of Supervisors met in regular session Monday, Nov. 1st. Messrs. HUGH DIMOND and S. A. SCOTT, present.

Mr. DIMOND was chosen Chairman for the year ensuing.

Little business was done except the passing of proper bills to individuals quarterly allowable.

The privilege of collecting toll of passengers over the new bridge at Split Rock was granted one Manuel De M Da Silva.

The proprietors of the turnpike leading from Coulterville out of the mountains in a general direction towards the plains, were granted permission to collect toll whenever opportunity offered.

The new jail was examined and accepted. The Board expressed themselves as highly satisfied with the building in all respects; and consider that the terms of contract are fully complied with; and that the work reflects much credit on the contractor, Mr J. O. LOVEJOY.

The Board adjourned Saturday, Nov. 6th.

A KNOT ON A LOG.—After the manner of MacDonald we saw a knot upon a log. It was brown with a rough bark. What made the bark brown? It was once on a noble oak, which stood bravely resisting the hurricaned winds of desolating and destroying winter. That knot caught and kept with giant grasp, the congealed mist, accouched of clouds, white with fear. It loosed them only when, in sultry summer, the powerful king of day rejoiced fiercely in the east. That knot listened, perchance, on the brow of the overhanging precipice, for a thousand years, to the music zephyrs made through the vernal verdure of its parent oak, and caught, at the same time, the monody of the hoarse mountain stream below. Who put that knot on that log? Was it the mysterious spirit that hunts out the secrets of nature, and when disturbed in the law of its working, mars the fair face of nature? The knot didn't answer, and we kept on to our dinner, thinking of that knot on a log.—Nevada Journal.

In the same manner, only more so, we saw a knot on a log. We had just got over the log; and the knot had caught in our trouserloons and tore one leg off them, pretty much; besides injuring our pantaletts and hide. We turned round and saw the knot on the log. It was a peaked ragged thing, that knot.—It was white, with no bark, and sticky with pitch. How came it to have no bark? and how came an exuding, elementary and inflammable juice coagulated on the outside of that knot? It was once a high old pitch pine, that fell down because it couldn't stand up. That knot caught us in the breeching of our harness, and held on like the devil; accoucher e ng us, mighty nigh. That knot had listened and lay for us, altogether likely. We spake and made use of terms common to the righteous in giving thanks, but our style was entirely different; and as long as our scratched leg ached, we thought of the knot on the log; and when we tried to buy a new pair of trousers, and couldn't get credited, we thought of the knot on the log. We did.

ATTEMPTED ARREST OF ROBBERS IN HORNITAS—TWO WOMEN SHOT.—We are informed by Mr. SNETIKER, the gentlemanly driver of Fisher's Stage, that on Saturday evening a man arrived in Hornitas in pursuit of robbers, and gave information of their suspected presence in that place, to Constable WHITE. The two then proceeded to the dance house, where a supposed robber was pointed out to the Constable. That officer approached the man and requested that he would accompany him to the Justice's office. The villain agreed to do so, but on getting outside the door, sprung away, and drawing two six-shooters, commenced firing upon the crowd.

One shot struck a Mexican girl called PATRICIA, passed through a portion of her breast, and entered the side of her mother, who was standing near, from the effects of which she died on Sunday. PATRICIA will recover. The villain was pursued and fired at, but was not taken. He had two accomplices with him, as it afterwards appeared.

PERSONAL.—Maj. SOLOMON, U. S. Marshal for the Northern District of this State, arrived in town on Sunday evening. His business, as we learn, was to subpœna certain witnesses to appear before the Commissioner of the Court of Claims in San Francisco, in the matter of Felix Argenti et als. vs. The United States, now pending in the Court of Claims, Washington City. We understand that this action arises out of a certain purchase of cattle by J. C. FREMONT on account of the United States, in 1851.

STATE ITEMS.

......There is now about a half a million of dollars in the State Treasury.

......Christy's Minstrels are in Calaveras county. They will probably visit Mariposa.

......Thanksgiving will occur in this State Thursday, Nov. 25th. In many and perhaps most other States it will occur the same day.

......More rain has fallen the past month of October than in the whole of those months for five years.

......Newspaper carriers in San Francisco, are publishing the names and amounts due from delinquent subscribers. A good idea.

......Large numbers of immigrants are stated to be on the way to this country from Texas and the Western States.

......An attempt was made by three men to rob the overland mail on its last trip, but the effort was unsuccessful.

......Telegraphic communication between San Francisco and Carson Valley will be established within ten days.

......The Theater at Sonora has been enlarged and improved. The Democrat ardently desires the arrival of some good company to do the legitimate drama in it.

......G. T. Martin, Esq., County Judge of Tuolumne, is much and deservedly complimented by several journals for ability and for the manner in which he discharges his official duties.

......The camels run away from Fort Tejon during a recent storm. They took an eastward course.—Nine were recovered on the desert; six more had not at last advices been found.

......It is calculated the wheat crop of California the present year will be equal to 650,000 barrels of flour. The home consumption may be estimated at 420,000 barrels. A surplus is thus shown of 230,000 barrels.

......Uncle Sam's Sixth Regiment of Infantry, 1000 strong, has arrived in this State. After a short rest at Benicia, they will proceed to Oregon and will probably operate against the Indians in a winter campaign under Gen. Harney.

......Sonora is not improving morally. Stabbing, shooting and fighting, is quite too common to show anything but the absence of proper correctives, and the presence and the pervading influence of a degraded public sentiment.

......The proprietors of the Steamboat Princess advertise that passengers can go on that boat to Sacramento for One Dollar, and in no danger of being "brought up" on a "Hog's Back," as the passengers of the Eclipse (an opposition Steamer) are.

......Coal, from a mine recently discovered in Alameda county, has been sent to the office of the San Francisco National. The coal connoiseur and critic of that excellent Democratic journal pronounces it good. Moreover it can be afforded in that city at six dollars per ton, whereas $22 per ton is now paid.

......A battalion of Infantry is to form a military escort to Lieut. Beale in his construction of a Wagon Road from Fort Smith, Arkansas, to Albuquerque. From the latter place a new route across the Sierras to the Tulare Valley, has been determined upon.

......Three lines of Overland Mail Stages are in operation. One line on the northern route via Placerville, Carson Valley, Salt Lake, to St. Louis. Another, the middle route, via the Tejon Pass, Santa Fe, to St. Louis, Mo. The third from San Francisco via Visalia, Los Angeles, Tejon Pass, Tucson, to Memphis, Tenn.

......It is stated that the Tehuantepec route will be opened next month for the carrying of the mails and passengers. The time of making the transit from New Orleans to San Francisco, it is thought will not exceed fifteen days. All this may be so and may be not so. This route has been opened in a few months too many times for the public to place much confidence in the present statement.

......The Chronicle, published at Mokelumne Hill, has been enlarged, which evidences prosperity. Its publisher, SHANNON, is an able editor and a sound Democrat. Success to him and his. He is the chap that fell into a cistern in Stockton, while running to a fire in the night, at the State Fair, in the year of our Lord, 1857.

......The Northern Light, a paper published at Whatcom, Bellingham Bay, has gone out. William Bausman, its proprietor or publisher, has returned to Sacramento, and is a candidate for the State Senate in the place of Ferguson, shot. He is supported by the opponents of the Democratic party. If he is elected, it is time for respectable men to leave the country. The false light he hung out at Whatcom, with the assistance of one like unto it at Victoria, both aided by a few reflectors in San Francisco, decoyed thousands of miners from California to Frazer River, and to ruin.

......An injunction has been granted by the U. S. Circuit Court in the case United States vs. Parrott and others, occupants of the New Almaden Quicksilver Mines. These mines, the richest in the world, are worth millions, and have been wrought for some years by the defendants, Parrott (a banker in San Francisco) & Co. They are restrained from taking out more ore, and a receiver is to be appointed to receive the proceeds of the quicksilver on hand, and that of the ore out, of which there is a considerable quantity. The case will go to the Supreme Court of the United States. It is said the evidence shows a most unwarrantable occupancy of the property by Parrott & Co.

......Various accounts are received of the discovery of rich gold mines on the Gila. The following correspondence, dated Fort Yuma, October 21st, appearing in the San Francisco Herald, is as complete and probably as reliable as any:

"On a visit of three days to the mines on the Gila river, about fifteen miles from this place, the following facts came under my observation. Gold has been found for a distance of three miles on either side of the river, varying from a quarter to half of a mile from the banks.

"No point has yet been prospected that has not yielded paying dirt. The lowest yield, per pan, five cents; the highest, eight dollars.

"The Rev. Mr. Riddle of Texas, on his way to California, stopped there some four weeks since; he has already cleared six hundred dollars. Mr. Weinenger, an old miner, two miles up, has discovered a claim which yields him forty dollars per day.

"What is now wanted to fully develop these rich mines, are the necessary implements for working them—such as tools, lumber, and means of transporting the earth from the gulches to the river.

"It would be advisable for any one coming to bring necessary supplies, as there is but one store here, and everything consequently, at the most enormous rates.

"This point is now very readily reached by land or water. By land, twice a week from San Francisco, by stage coach; by water, by sail or steamboats, to the mouth of the Colorado river, thence to this point by two steamers now plying on the river. The road from this point to the mines is capital.

......The Bulletin has "encouraging news from upper Fraser!"

......A correspondent of the Marysville Democrat was "run out" of La Porte, Sierra County, for writing the following to that paper, which was published:

"Drunk, drunk—go where you may, every little town is infested with groggeries and drunkards; few old men are to be seen—all young, ranging from 20 to 45. Twenty five years hence, there will be more old men in the State of California than in any three States of the Union; wifeless, and it may be said, homeless."

......There seems to be some dispute as to the cause of the separation of Mrs. Cora A. Hatch, the young and pretty spiritual medium, from her husband. Most ascribe it to spiritual influence. We rather guess that the spirit which did the mischief wasn't a disembodied one by any means.

......The disunion traitors of the South and the abolition traitors of the North are alike in want of appropriate platforms to stand on, and the sheriff should be employed to erect them.

......Mr. Douglass threatens to "bring Mr. Lincoln to his milk." This would doubtless be a much easier task than to bring the ex Senator to "water."—Illinois paper.

No doubt you could readily perform the latter operation by scaring him a little.

......A Pittsburgh paper says that "a spanking business is done all along the banks of the Ohio."—Instead of being all along the banks, isn't it confined to bottoms?

LOCAL ITEMS.

......Four deer were brought into town Saturday evening by Messrs. EARLY and HOGAN.

......Turkey-shooting may be classed among the "popular sports" of this region, one would judge.

......District Court, Judge BURKE presiding, commenced its session yesterday. The criminal docket is large.

......Mr. BLACK, merchant at Bull Creek, was shot at last week while lying in his "bunk," by a man named SHEEHAN, who then fled. Mr. B. was not injured.

ROBBING THE POOR.—Taking from the GAZETTE and giving no credit therefor. Verily, verily, ye shall have your reward, and that speedily, if you don't stop this lousy business.

......Those fond of shooting, will remember the Turkey shoot at Hornitas next Saturday. A large quantity of Turkeys have been provided, and every necessary arrangement made for the occasion.

...... Reports have reached Mariposa to the effect that AUGUST PUJOL, well known here, was drowned in Fraser River two months since. We are, however, unable to vouch for their correctness.

BEN MOCK has again signalized himself by shooting on Wednesday morning last, two deer out of a flock of three. BEN's extreme personal beauty, it is said, has a fascinating effect upon the animals.

......A Mr. ROBINSON of Horse Shoe Bend was seriously injured one day last week by the falling of a bank. One of his legs was so badly crushed, that the amputation of it was feared.

......A man was shot by a negro in Stockton last week with a shot gun. The charge struck the man in the face. One eye was put out, and he was otherwise badly disfigured.

......A shoot will come off at Coulterville, Saturday next, for which preparations have been making these two weeks, as per verbal information. Lots of Turkeys are on hand, and a general gathering of Nimrods will take place, doubtless.

......Supervisor Ross, of the Hornitos and Quartzburg District, (No. 1.) sent in his resignation at the last session of the Board. It is to be regretted that he has done so. An election to fill the vacancy is ordered in that district, Saturday, Nov. 20th.

......A Beef shoot will take place in Mariposa next Saturday. Two fine beeves are provided, and sport may be expected. The usual rules of such affairs will be observed. These that think they can get beef, are respectfully invited to take a hand.

......Vance's Daguerrean Rooms in San Francisco, were badly damaged by fire, on Monday of last week, We regret to hear it. The establishment was the first in this State, and few if any, were superior to it in the Atlantic States. It was a feature of the city, and is a public loss.

A NUISANCE—That China rookery across the creek from the Union Hotel. Quarreling and fighting is going on most of the time, particularly evenings the noise is hideous. A Chinaman, employed at the Union House, took part in the exercises, Thursday evening last, and got his head nearly split open with a crowbar. He may not recover, as the wound is a bad one.

......Petty larceny is considerably indulged in about here, just at present. Poultry has nearly all disappeared and provisions are taken from camps.—The larder of the Union Hotel last week was invaded and chickens, turkeys, hams, &c., were appropriated by some piratical "cuss," supposed to be a Chinaman. Look out for them.

......There is some talk here about forming a Club for the taking of the San Francisco NATIONAL. We hope it will be formed, and a large one too. That paper is an excellent one, in its every department. It is thoroughly and consistently Democratic, and for this reason alone, the Democrats of this county, who are neither few nor small, should give it a hearty support.

......Hon. J. M. BONDURANT, County Judge, has granted an injunction restraining the Sheriff of this County in the execution of the writ of restitution in the case of FREMONT vs. SMYTHE CLARK and JOHN VANDEWATER, to which we referred in our last issue, by which injunction we understand, the Sheriff is interdicted from placing FREMONT in possession of any portion of the disputed premises except the upper shaft of the Josephine Vein.

......Subscriptions will be received at this office for the purpose of purchasing beef and strychnine, to "clean out" the host of detestable curs which infest this place. When $50 is received, the administration will commence and not before, as a less amount than mentioned will not answer the estimates.

......A friend of ours was out at a musical swarry a few nights since, at which wine was furnished in considerable quantities. Late in the night, or rather early in the morning, might have been heard his sweet voice as he pursued his devious way towards home, in strains to-wit:

"We'ee gether sh hells from youth to age,

......A fire occurred at Marble Springs, 18 miles from Coulterville, Oct. 19th. The dwelling house, office, and some out-buildings, belonging to Messrs. TYLER & JOHNSON, proprietors of the large quartz mill at that place, were burned, with their entire contents. Over $3000 worth of provisions had just been received and were stored in the burned houses. A new engine was much damaged. The total loss is about $6,000.

......A "Pike" was out the other day with a shot gun after "Quail Meat." He traveled till near night, shooting often but bagging no game, because he said he "wasn't used to the dogorn'd thing." Approaching home, he saw an old quail standing sentinel on a high rock; so creeping up within 40 feet, Pike fired both barrels. A broken wing was the damage done to the bird, and then commenced a race, the bird getting to the chapparel first. Pike's companion sung out, "What did you kill?" "Nothin'," says Pike, "but I sot one of the derned things afoot!"

LATE AND ENCOURAGING NEWS FROM WALKER'S RIVER.—Mr. O. R. PIATT, formerly of Johnson's Flat, arrived in town on Wednesday last, from Walker's River, via Carson Valley and the Big Trees in Calaveras County. The trip occupied seven days—snow preventing him coming over the ridge near the heads of the Tuolumne, the route taken when the party went over to that river. Mr. P. reports very encouraging success of the miners at work there, of which there are about 80.

Smith & Co. have never taken out less than $7, and as high as $20 per day to the hand.

Vining & Co. are averaging $6 per day to the hand; which is about the general average. None are making less than $4 per day.

Mr. PIATT will return immediately by the route he came, with a load of bacon, sugar, etc. Flour is $10 per hundred, and is obtained at Carson Valley, as is fresh beef and pork. Gold has been discovered in many places over a large extent of country. All work near each other at present, on account of Indians, &c.

......Messrs. COHN, SAMUELS & Co., are every week in receipt of large quantities of clothing and dry goods suited to the season. They have now a very large stock, and are fully prepared to supply the community with all articles in the dry goods line. A splendid stock of ladies' dress goods just received. Not knowing much of ladies "toggery" we can't go into the particulars of names or uses of the goods, but we have no doubt that when fashionably "made up," by a fashionable dress maker, and a fashionable lady in them, that the general effect would be immense. One thing we did notice was some all-sufficient hoops, big enough to cover all a woman's possessions under the law, as amended by the last Legislature.

......One of the many needs of the public of this region, is a Sealer of Weights and Measures.—All sorts of scales, balances and modes of weighing, are in use, many of which are, without doubt, defective: some from continual use, never having been corrected, and some were good for nothing in the first place. The appointment of such an officer, belongs to the Secretary of State, and the sooner that functionary attends to the duty the better.

Also a measurer of wood would be an office of some considerable consequence in this community. If any one doubts it, let him buy a cord and then measure it. A load of wood 4 feet high, 4 feet wide and 8 feet long, or 128 solid feet, wood merchants will please understand, is a cord; and it will make a pile larger than they think for.

LADY CORRESPONDENCE.

IN DETACHED PORTIONS.

SACRAMENTO, Oct. 28, 1858.

MR. HOLMES:—I might say, perhaps, "Dear Mr. Holmes," but I wont; becouse it is not proper; and besides, I wouldn't say it if it was proper. So, now you know. [Bite 'em.]—ED. Well, you have offended me. You said some months ago that portions of my correspondence were objectionable, and that a portion of it might appear at some after time, perhaps. Now I say that the only objectionable portion was that which related to you; that used you up in defending women, whom you have attacked and still continue to attack, you great foolish lummux. You talk about their crinoline—their fashionable low necked dresses—their hats—their trousers—their —— I hardly know what you havn't pitched into of theirs. And then you accuse them of being to blame generally about divorcing, whenever any of the persecuted, down-trodden of our sex assert their rights. You have said a great deal against married women giving countenance and encouragement to unmarried men. What could they do, the poor things, when their husbands were not such as they took them to be, and were of no account. You call married women's children (sweet, pretty little cherubs) 'Brats!' Oh! you sinner, you! [Here several stanzas of personal abuse and threats, are omitted.]—ED.

I hear that Mr. MERRITT is elected. I am not much pleased to hear it, even if you did support him.—He is an imperious, autocratical man—good looking enough, but I don't like him. I first made his acquaintance through MATTY ARKINGTON, now Mrs. BAKER, in San Francisco, and have ever since been in a measure acquainted, but I would as soon bow to a free stone monument as him, he looks so cold; though his intimate acquaintances say he warms up amazingly upon better acquaintance.

Judge CLEARY is elected too. I liked him in Yo Semite Valley—so tall, magnificent and portly. He was the best fisherman I ever saw; could dig more worms, and put them on a hook nicer, and bob them round for trout splendidly. He could catch fish when I couldn't see them, and would kindly allow me to take them off the hook, whereby I learnt something of the science of the business. He will make a splendid Judge; that is, he will look well on the Bench; as for how much law he knows it doesn't make much difference, and I don't care; but I think he knows a great deal, as his face looks flushed and nervous, indicating that he has burnt the midnight oil in the pursuit of his various acquirements.

Mr. CRIMPMAN is still Sheriff, and was not elected this year, I believe. He has got a good face, but I don't like the rest of him. He is like you, too fat to be good for anything. He makes about such a Sheriff as you do editor, probably.

Mr. WASHBURN is not re elected as I saw by the GAZETTE, and I am sorry for it. He was an old Justice, and knew most of you sinners, and of him you would probably have received your deserts—so Mr. COULTER, of Coulterville, said, where I stopped when I came from Yo Semite Valley. Mr. C. also said that Mr. GREGORY, elected to the Legislature, is a fine-looking man, of billious character or temperament, I forget which. I shall see him this winter, then I can tell.

There was a Mr. WILSON, of Coulterville, whom I saw in Yo Semite Valley, and afterwards in Coulterville. He was very gentlemanly, pleasant and accommodating, and would set the whole party into a roar of laughter with his jokes. He couldn't do too much for a lady however, and that is to be particularly credited to him. But he, like Mr. CRIMPAN, has too much blubber to please the eye.

I'm so lonesome! After having passed some months here, I am satiated. Being acquainted with but few people and living retired, time hangs heavily on my hands. I long for the mountains, and will visit them again next year, via Mariposa.

I forgot to mention Col. WARREN as an acquaintance. He is rather an ancient but pretty spruce gallant, and knows you, but don't think he likes you much.

Now, Mr. HOLMES, stop talking about women, or else I will tell about your rum drinking proclivities, and how shabby you are as you go about. Mind!

ATLANTIC NEWS.

......The steamer Sonora arrived at San Francisco, Sunday, Oct. 31, bringing New York dates to Oct. 7th. Nearly 1000 passengers and a large amount of express freight. Below is a summary of news:

......Four hundred and Seventy one persons it is ascertained were lost by the burning of the Steamer Austria, off the banks of Newfoundland, Sept. 13th.

......The Atlantic Cable is a failure; at least the electrical currents are not strong enough to produce intelligible signals. It is supposed a partial break of the cable sufficient to much injure insulation, occurred some 250 miles off the coast of Ireland. Whether it can be repaired and perfect continuity restored, is a matter of much doubt.

......The Crystal Palace at New York, was destroyed by fire Oct. 5th. Fifteen hundred persons were in the building at the commencement of the fire, and the confusion was great, many narrowly escaping with their lives. So rapid was the progress of the flames that in thirty minutes after its discovery, the dome of the building fell in. It originally cost $700,000, and much very valuable property was stored therein.

......It is stated that negociations are in progress for the placing of the Collins Steamers on the California route by the way of Panama.

......A Slaver, the brig Haidee, took a cargo of slaves from the African coast numbering over 1100, and landed 900 on the coast of Cuba, the balance 200 died on the passage. The vessel was then brought near Montauk Point, the eastern end of Long Island, and scuttled, her crew dispersing. A number had been arrested, and were on trial in New York.

......A fearful calamity occurred at Surrey, England. The Musical Hall at that place was crowded to witness some performances, when a villain fired a pistol, and others cried fire in the building. A rush of the auditory from the Hall was the result, in which six persons were crushed to death, and many others injured.

......The American mare Prioress, owned by Mr. Ten Broeck, won the great Yorkshire Handicap. Distance run, one mile and three fourths.

......Morphy, the great American Chess Player, was at last accounts engaged in playing with Harwitz, the champion of France. The best in seven was to be considered conqueror. Each had won two up to the latest dates.

......Billy Mulligan, the expatriated, was fined $250 in New York recently, for an assault upon one Webb, a Californian, whom Billy knew as a "Vigilante" in San Francisco in '56.

SECRETARY OF THE SENATE.—We observe the name of Rasey Biven, late of the Stockton Democrat, an ardent Administration paper, spoken favorably of by a portion of the Democratic press as a candidate for Secretary of the Senate. We hesitate not to express the opinion that Rasey Biven is eminently qualified for the position. In the sessions of 1855-'56, Mr. Biven was Assistant Secretary, but performed a great portion of the duties of Secretary. We had an excellent opportunity of judging of his qualifications at that time. He has a heavy, full voice, and reads loud, clear and rapidly, [by the way, most important requisites for a good Secretary,] writes a bold and legible hand with great rapidity, and is thoroughly conversant with all the duties pertaining to the position. If he is fortunate enough to be elected, we will readily bet a hat that, at the end of the session, no Senator can be found who will not say that he proved himself one of the most efficient officers they have known in any position.—Shasta Courier.

Certain it is, that if the expressed wishes of the Democracy in this region can influence the matter, Mr. Biven will not fail of success. Mr. B. is well known to the people of the Southern mines as a merchant, an editor, and as a man of integrity and capacity. Moreover, he is a sound and incorruptible Democrat, of which abundant evidence exists. We earnestly hope he may be placed in the position.

......A flock of Wild Pigeons on Saturday morning alighted in the pine tree which towers up over the Post Office. They were not molested by the Nimrods, as it was early, and most of them were too shaky to shoot.

The Gougenhiems have come to town,
Few days, few days,
Twin sisters of great renown,
I'm going home,
All the way from Australia,
Few days, few days,
When they played and got great pay (in a horn.)

So in substance sings some of the journalizing flunkies in San Francisco.

☞San Francisco Overland Mail devotees have lately rendered themselves ridiculous by offering resolutions of gratitude to James Gordon Bennett, editor of the N. Y. Herald, for sending a reporter over their favorite route. For two dollars and a half the old renegade Scot would consign the grateful toad consumers to eternal torment. The United States of America never sheltered a more saleable package of Scotch itch and rags than that same Bennet of their adoration.—Trinity Journal.

Right and correct, Mr. Trinity Journal. Old Bennett would have them stuck up at the street corners for dogs to irrigate if he could make four bits apiece by it.

NATURE'S OWN REMEDY

FOR MAN'S SICKNESS.

THAT creates, re-produces new and pure blood—that acts on the Liver, Heart, Brain, Intestines, Limbs and Chest that revolutionizes the whole system—gives strength to the most Debilitated and Weak—that contains no mineral or other poison.—Such is, in truth, Dr. Jacob Webber's justly famous Invigorating Cordial Sanguifier.

The extraordinary and strange cures effected by this beautiful herbal concoction, has astonished all. It seems to suit every constitution. THE OLD, THE FEEBLE, the LANGUID feel new life and blood is given them. The Roue, the Dissipated Debauchee, the weak from long disease, from taking too much medicine, calomel and other mineral poisons; the young man whose manhood is wasted where NATURE'S FUNCTIONS are inert and lifeless, experiences the bliss of ROBUST AND VIGOROUS MANHOOD; his appetite is good; his sleep quiet and refreshing; his mind and memory clear and certain.

Fearful Questions to Young Men.

What has been your past life? Has it been one of dissipation, frivolity, intemperance, debauchery, or —worse? Has sickness, mental disease, or disappointment in love or business been yours? Has your occupation been LONELY, MONOTONOUS, and SEDENTARY? Have any of these ills been yours till now? You feel a sense of incapacity and weakness physically and mentally—a knowledge of being painfully unwell, yet an inability to describe or localize it—till LIFE BECOMES A BURDEN. Your hands tremble—your limbs totter—your spirits become low —your sleep fitful and disturbed—your appetite poor —your whole natural functions debilitated—night sweats—bad dreams—weakness in the morning—and similar horrors. Reader, if you knew the many that have been brought to the vigor and strength of youth by that sublime vegetable concoction, DR. JACOB WEBBER'S INVIGORATING CORDIAL, you would at once use it for Decline of Nature, Premature or Natural Weakness of the Functions, Nervousness, weakness, Constipation, Wakefulness and Exhaustion.

Mr. Uriah Weeks, who arrived from Panama March 2d, completely prostrated, weak, and scarcely able to move; had the Panama Fever three months; had pains in the bones, chills, no appetite, strength or energy; he used Webber's Cordial two weeks, and felt so strong and well that on the 17th he went to the mines, where he is now working.

Sea Sickness and Delerium Tremens

There never was a remedy gave such delight to the sufferer as this. The Agent can, from his own knowledge of cures effected by it, conscientiously recommend it in any of the following diseases: NERVOUSNESS, WEAKNESS, LANGUOR, LOSS OF APPETITE, SLEEP OR STRENGTH, TREMBLING, LOW SPIRITS, DECAY OF THE NATURAL FUNCTIONS, PAINS IN THE HEAD, LIMBS OR BODY, NEURALGIC OR RHEUMATIC, and it often restores those to health and strength whose CONSTITUTIONS ARE ALMOST BROKEN.

This is sold at every respectable Drug Store in California and Oregon, and by PARK & WHITE, Francisco. PRICE—$3 per battle, or two for $5.

The Belle of Mariposa.

Ellen, Bella and Till H—n, you know them I am sure,
With complexions so lovely, so clear and so pure;
Their hair dark and silky, while the teeth of these girls
Are so snowy you'd think they had mouthsfull of pearls.
Yet every child of Creation, both ladies and gents,
Can possess the same beauties for one hundred cents.

Because the price is reduced to 25 and 50 cents for the following superb compounds, a fresh supply of which fresher and better perfumed than ever, is just received.

Reader, although advertised thus, these really fine articles are all we represent them. The Soap (price reduced to 25 cents) acts in the most beautiful manner in clarifying, whitening and clearing the most discolored, eruptive and disfigured skin; while for infants or for shaving, it is unequalled as healing, softening, and making a fine lather.

For cleaning, dressing, forcing the hair to grow, stopping its falling off, curing the dandruff, &c., the CORAL HAIR RESTORATIVE is the finest thing made. Price reduced to 25 cents.

Teeth are made wite as snow, the breath sweet and the gums hard and healthy by LAFONT'S JAMAICA SOAP TEETH ROOT. It lathers like soap, and is beautiful. Price 50 cents.

Mariposa Gazette

SPORTING INTELLIGENCE.

The prevailing excitement regarding the great fight for the Championship, says Porter's Spirit of September 25th, between Heenan and Morrissey, appears to have resulted in a general developement of the organ of combativeness throughout the country We condense the following Fistiana items from the Spirit.

A set-to took place at the "Two-mile Run," near Pittsburgh, between an Irishman named Dunn, and Mr. Lewis, a gentleman of Welsh extraction. The superiority of the Welshman enabled him to vanquish Dunn in eleven rounds.

What pugilists term a "miserable attempt at a prize fight" came off at Carlisle, Penn., between two youths named Bob Ball and Jim Noble. The professional gladiators who assembled to witness the mill, were disgusted with the affair.

A spirited fight took place at Chicago, between Charles Beach, a disciple of Thespis, and Johnny Bailey, the Lincolnshire Pet, which is said to have been a manly sort of contest, ending in favor of the histrionic individual, after the completion of some twenty rounds.

Amongst the fights arranged, is one between Donnelly and Young Sport, at Louisville, Ky., for $150 a side. Young Sport to weigh 108 lb., and Donnelly not to exceed 114 lb. Both men are in active training. Ha.ry Lazarus also picks up the gauntlet thrown down by Conn Quinn, provided Quinn will fight for $500 or $1,000, at 112 lb. weight.

A match has also been concluded between Barney Aaron, Jr., of London, and Patrick Brannigan, "better known as 'Scotty, of Brooklyn.'" The stakes $200 a side, and they are to fight in Canada on the 18th October, two days before the great fight for the Championship. Barney is a Cockney by birth, 28 years old, has been in this country five years, during which time he has fought and won three battles.—"Scotty" was born in 1832. The only scientific combat in which he was ever engaged, was with Dan Smith, of Philadelphia, otherwise known as "Young Bendigo." Scotty lost by a foul blow.

"The Abbey was, years ago, the residence of the wealthy Lansing family; the founder of which came to this country when it was a wilderness, and brought with him from Holland the very brick with which he builded the Abbey, and there, amid the lofty trees of the primeval forest, those living giants of the misty past, stands the old Abbey, whose morning shadow has fallen for many, many a year on the smooth waters of the Hudson. There, in this picturesque, and beautiful location, I found John Morrissey, the conqueror of Thompson and Sullivan, with his trio of trainers, Lawrence, Burns and Shepard, making preparation to maintain his pugilistic position against the strong arm and giant form of the Benicia Boy. He is in stature not quite six feet, and instead of the burly bully, with shaggy eyebrows and lowering forehead,

'To fright the souls of fearful adversaries,'

"There are hundreds of people who throng the Abbey daily to see him. Some who have come hundreds of miles. I noticed to-day, among the crowd, one respectably dressed, fine appearing old man nearly 70 years of age, who said he had come six hundred miles to see the man who was to fight for the Championship of America."

EXTRAORDINARY.—Here is a story sufficiently extraordinary to satisfy, we think, the most inveterate lover of all that is "too horrible to relate." The Mobile Advertiser, a paper of good standing for veracity, is responsible for it: "A mad dog in Mobile, finding nothing else to bite, bit a small tree which a citizen had placed for ornament upon the sidewalk in front of his house, and buried his teeth deep into the bark. Some weeks afterwards there fell a heavy shower of rain, and scarcely had the leaves of the tree become saturated, when the body of it burst into a thousand fragments, making a very loud report, which our informant says resembled the howl of a dog in the most agonizing pain. The next morning a man from the country, whilst passing that way, picked up a splinter from the tree, took out his pocket knife, whittled it into a tooth pick, with which he picked his teeth—alas! with fatal effect; he died of hydrophobia, and 13 pigs wounded by the splinters have all died of the same disease."

The speed with which the Atlantic Telegraph Cable brings news from Europe—by Steamer—reminds us of the immense advantages derived by some of the Nootka Sound savages some years ago, from the present of a pair of snuffers. "We used to snuff 'ee candle with our fingers," said a distinguished chief, "and thro'ee snuff on 'ee ground; now we rake 'em off with our fingers and put 'em in 'ee box!"

The Mercury of the same city goes so far as to say that—"Folks whisper already that no messages whatever have been flashed through the depths of the Atlantic! Distrust hints that the whole is a trick and delusion!"

☞The London Athenaeum, reviewing Black's Picturesque Guide to Yorkshire, says: "Of local and family histories there are few more interesting than that of the fair-haired Saxon Fairfaxes, of Yorkshire, who held land in England before the conquest, whose territorial possessions have passed into the hands of strangers, and whose present representative in the English Peerage is a born American, of American parents, residing at Woodburne, Maryland, United States of America! The American estates acquired by marriage by a Fairfax, some century and a half ago, proved no slight compensation for lands which had passed away from the family in England; and now, under a Republic, Baron Fairfax has a home which he does not quit for attendance in the House of Lords."

☞We may yet ascertain the old Grecian secret of raising heavy bodies. A mechanic named David L. Miller, has invented a machine embracing the three principles of the wedge, lever and screw, with which a workman at the Norris Locomotive Works, Philadelphia, weighing 156 lbs., lifted with facility the enormous weight of 37,222 pounds—more than 18 tons, merely by the application of his strength, through his hands to the lever.

PICKED UP.—The whaleship Mercury, at Honolulu, reports that on the 26th of February, in lat. 2:30 N., lon. 170.30 E., she picked up a canoe, upwards of one hundred and ninety miles from any land, with thirteen persons on board—men, women and children—left to the mercy of God and the waves, without a paddle or an oar to help themselves with, and nothing eatable or drinkable on board their little vessel. They were most kindly and hospitably received on board by Capt. Hayden, who landed them safely on Covel's Island, on the 9th of March.

☞Parson Brownlow has received the following complimentary notice from the Louisville Democrat, which will doubtless please him:

He is a rare genius and a powerful one. Possessing strong sense and strong passions, he writes with all his might, sparing no one that dares to cross his path as an enemy. He assails his foes with the pen, and thunders at them from the stump and the pulpit, and, if they want anything more of him, he shrinks not from encountering them with fist, knife or pistol. Parson Brownlow is an honest and great-hearted man, and a sound and energetic politician. He loves truth and virtue, and his scorn for all sorts of villainy is intense. He deserves well of his countrymen.

☞Sut Miller, the hero of the "Lovengood Papers," says the Athens Banner, died suddenly in the neighborhood of Ducktown, Tenn. Poor Sut! After having innumerable encounters and conflicts with man and beast—been shot several times, and consumed "bust head" enough to run an over-shot mill for forty days and nights, he died ignobly at last from a blow inflicted with the fist of a fellow man.

☞The United States Government, it is said, will have expended, by the time the Niagara is once more fitted for a war steamer, directly and indirectly, in this cable business, the sum of $250,000 at least.—The alterations demanded by the agents of the Telegraph Company for the purpose of laying the cable, and the various suggestions introduced, and to a degree carried out by Mr. Field and his associates during the period of depositing the cable in mid-ocean, has transformed the craft into anything but a vessel of war, and she has to be restored to her original condition at a round cost.

"DEAD HEADS."—While the dead-head of the famous California bandit, Joaquin, is doubtless being exhibited in some New York curiosity shop, at two bits a sight, says the Golden Era, we hear that the embalmed head of Oliver Cromwell is in the possession of a daughter of Hon. Mr. Wilkinson, an English gentleman. It is carefully preserved, wrapped in costly envelopes, in a strong antique box. Cromwell was buried in Westminster Abbey. At the Restoration, his embalmed body was taken up and hung at Tyburn. Afterwards his head was cut off, a pike driven through the neck and skull, and exposed at Westminster Hall. The pike was broken and thrown down. A soldier picked it up, and it has descended to its present owner. The head is almost entire, the flesh black and sunken, the hair remaining, and even a large wart over the eye. The splintered piece of a pike and rusted iron are attached to the head. The evidence which proves this to be the head of the Protector is said to be conclusive; yet it is rather a strange relic to be preserved as a bijou by a young lady.

STANGE AFFAIR.—The Police of Prague have just discovered that two sisters, both insane, have for seven long years been living in a small room in the house of their mother, in that city, holding no communication with her or any one, and receiving their food through an opening in the door. For five years the elder had not once stirred out of the room, and the younger only very rarely. During the seven years the room was not once cleaned out, and it was, consequently, most horribly filthy. During the same time the two young women never washed, and they were literally encrusted in dirt. In order to clean them it was necessary to employ chemical substances. The cleansing has evidently done them good, but they complain of having been removed from their room. They have been sent to a lunatic asylum.

......The "Great Eastern" Steamship of 22,500 tons, will hardly visit the coast of the United States. She is to be sold by her builders, and will probably be purchased by the British Government.

☞Dr. L. J. Czapkay.—We would direct the especial attention of Invalids to the perusal of Dr. L. J. Czapkay's advertisement, to be found in another column of this paper, to place the services of a learned and experienced Physician within their reach. So much ill has been inflicted upon the human family from the pernicious and ignorant practices of impirics, that it seems as if we were fulfilling a bounden duty to make known where judicious relief can be obtained. To those unfortunate enough to suffer from the effects of sexual or private diseases, or other ill treatment, we cheerfully commend Dr. L. J. Czapkay as a man of rare scientific and medical acquirements. Possessing all the requirements, from long experience and acknowledged skill, for the successful practice of his profession. Having made sexual complaints his especial study, like the celebrated Ricord of Paris, he is enabled to guarantee a speedy and permanent cure in all cases of private or chronic diseases, whether the effect of contagion, self-abuse, or loss of virility, and in order that patients at a distance may avail themselves of his advice, free consultation by letter is open to them. The knowledge we have of the numerous cures he has effected, some of which were of long standing, leads us to place much faith in Dr. C's efficacy, and commend him to the confidence of those in ill health. d9

New Advertisemnts.

UDOLPHO WOLFE'S SCHNAPPS.
A medicinal drink, of eminently salutary qualities, manufactured by himself exclusively, at his factory at Schiedam, in Holland, and well known during the last twelve years throughout all the Atlantic and Western States.
It is made from the best barley that can be selected in Europe, with the essence of an aromatic Italian berry, of acknowledged and extraordinary medicinal properties. It has long since acquired a higher reputation, both in Europe and America, than any other diuretic beverage.
Analyzed, it is a perfectly pure Liquor, in its effects a mild and wholesome tonic. It is extensively used and approved by the medical faculty, the temperance people, heads of families, &c.
In Gravel, Gout, and Rheumatism, in obstructions of the Bladder and Kidneys, and in General Debility, its effects are prompt, decided, and invariably reliable; and it is not only a remedy for these maladies, but in all cases in which they are produced by drinking bad water, which is almost universally the cause of them, it acts as a sure preventive.
For Fever and Ague it is one of the most efficacious preventives that can be resorted to.
The Aromatic Schiedam Schnapps is consequently in great demand by persons traveling, or about to settle in new parts of the country especially, as well as by many in every community, where it has become known, on account of its various other remedial properties.
In all cases of a Dropsical tendency, it is generally the only remedy required, when adopted in the early stage of the disease.
In dyspepsia maladies, when taken in proper quantities, as a diet drink, and especially at dinner, it is found, by uniform experience, to be eminently efficacious in the most obstinate cases, when even the best of the usual remedies have failed to afford more than temporary relief. In cases of Flatulency, it is an immediate and invariable specific, and it may be administered in diluted and proportionate quantities, even to YOUNG INFANTS, in all those paroxysms of griping pain in the stomach and bowels to which they are especially subject, as well as in the cholic of grown persons.
Its judicious adoption in connection with the principal meals, or when a sense of exhaustion dictates its use, never fails to relieve the debility attendant upon protracted chronic maladies, low temperament and exhausted vital energy, by whatever cause induced. These are facts to which many of the most eminent medical men, both in England and the United States, have borne testimony, and which are corroborated by the highest written authorities.
Put up in quart and pint bottles, in cases of one dozen, with my name on the bottles, cork, and facsimile of my signature on the label.
For sale by all the respectable Druggists and Liquor dealers in California and Oregon.

Sayings and Doings of the Arabs.

Many are the anecdotes to which the pecularities of the Arabs have given rise, and which serve to illustrate their character. In many respects, these nomadic people resemble our Indians—the same hospitality, the same generosity, accompanied by the same ferocity and thievishness. Like the Indian, the Arab, beneath his mask of gravity, hides a good deal of humor.

A caravan traversing the desert, reached an oasis, and was generally received by the chief of the locality. On the eve of their departure, the travelers desired to see the son of their host, a man of a great ingenuousness and grace. "My son sleeps a profound sleep," replied the host, who continued to do the honors of a splendid feast But the next morning, just as they were setting forth, they learned that the young man had been killed by falling from a great height. The father had been resolute enough to stifle his grief, to avoid distressing his guests.

The Aarbs, like the Orientals, esteem madmen and respect them, believing them "touched by God." A European geologist, traversing their mountains, was attacked by thieves, the large bag he carried exciting their covetousness. But finding only various specimens of stones, they took his hand and touched it to their foreheads in token of respect, and then fled, crying Adamahboel, (the man is mad,) leaving him purse and watch.

A QUEER CRITTER.—Extraordinary stories sometimes get into the papers, and here is one of them. It is said to have been cut from a Carthagena, South American paper.

It is related by a traveler who lately visited Carthagenia:

I saw a lady this morning—for such I will call her—who is a perfect man and a perfect woman. She is partly deranged. She is rather tall in stature. Her features are neither masculine nor feminine. She walks and sits like a man. She shaves every day—her beard being white, does not show very plain. Her age is 55.—Her affections is that of a woman—tender hearted and sympathetic. Her courage and resolution is that of a man, while her voice partakes of each. She charges the Almighty with doing wrong in giving her such a mysterious formation.

She told me she was born in London—was a cousin to Queen Victoria. Under the advice of Queen Victoria she dressed in man's clothes and left the country at 13 years of age. She possessed wealth—went to France—studied anatomy; from thence went to N. York and practiced medicine—married a wife—was the father of two children; two years after, lost her wife and property, again assumed the female dress—married a man of some wealth—was the mother of three children—parted from her husband and became a wanderer over the earth.

She closed her narrative, while the tears flowed freely, by saying that she felt like Cain, driven from the face of all men.

AN INCH OF RAIN ON THE ATLANTIC.—We have been struck with that passage of Lieut. Maury's "Physical Geography of the Sea," in wh ch he computes the effect of a single inch of rain falling upon the Atlantic. The Atlantic includes an area of 250,000,000 of square miles. Suppose an inch of rain to fall upon only one-fifth of this vast expanse, "it would weigh," says our author, 360,000,000,000 tons, and the salt, which, as water, it held in solution in the sea, and which, when that water was taken up as a vapor, was left behind to disturb the equilibrium, weighed 16,000,000, more tons, or nearly twice as much as all the ships in the world could carry at a cargo each. It might fall in a day; but occupying what time it might in falling, this rain is calculated to exert so much force—which is inconceivably great—in disturbing the equilibrium of the ocean. If all the water discharged by the Mississippi during the year, were taken up in one mighty measure, and cast into the ocean at one effort, it would not make a greater distubance in the equilibrium of the sea than would the fall of rain supposed. And yet, so gentle are the operations of nature, that movements so vast are unperceived.

☞ "Why on earth don't you get up earlier, my son?" said an anxious father to his sluggard son; "don't you see the flowers, even in spring, out of their bed in early dawn?"

"Yes, father," said the boy, "I see they do, and I would do the same if I had as dirty a bed as they have."

CITY MILLS.

Main St., West end—Established 1850.

THE undersigned, confident from their long experience in the Milling business, of their ability to manufacture the best description of FLOUR, would invite the attention of parties wishing to purchase, to the established reputation their brand has acquired in the Southern Mines, and wherever introduced, for its purity and superior quality.

They would take this occasion to inform their friends and the public, that having added to the premises, a Fire proof Brick Store-House, 40x80 feet, capable of storing 600 tons grain—improved and perfected the machinery of the Mills, their increased conveniences enable them to confidently guarantee every sack of Flour branded "STOCKTON CITY MILLS."

To Merchants and Farmers, they would add, that they continue to pay particular attention to grinding all kinds of grain. In conclusion, they would respectfully refer all those unacquainted with the Mills, to the principal Merchants of Stockton and the Southern Mines. SPERRY & CO.

N. B. The Office has been removed to the New building, adjoining the Mill, where orders are solicited for FLOUR, CORN MEAL, GROUND BARLEY, SHORTS, BRAN, &c. S. & CO.

This certificate was sent us by our agents at Patterson, N. Y., which is also certified to by several of the neighbors of Mr. Ballard.

Messrs. A. B. & D. SANDS: Gentlemen,—It gives me pleasure to send you the following statement in regard to my son. He took a severe cold, and after eight weeks of severe suffering the disease settled in his left leg and foot, which soon swelled to the utmost. The swelling was lanced by his physician, and discharged most profusely; after that no less than eleven ulcers formed on the leg and foot at one time. We had five different physicians, but none relieved him much; and the last winter found him so emaciated and low that he was unable to leave his bed, suffering the most excruciating pain. During this time the bone had become so much affected, that piece after piece came out, of which he has now more than twenty-five preserved in a bottle, varying from one-half to one and a half inches in length. We had given up all hopes of his recovery; but at this time we were induced to try your Sarsaparilla, and with its use his health and appetite began immediately to improve, and so rapid was the change that less than a dozen bottles effected a perfect cure.

With gratitude, I remain truly yours,

DARIUS BALLARD.

MANUFACTORY & STORE.

I WISH TO CALL THE ATTENTION OF THE PUBLIC TO THE FOLLOWING:

Having been taught by experience and loss, that it will be more prudent to work at CHEAPER rates, and get paid for my work, than to charge higher prices and thus make honest customers pay for those that don't, I have came to the conclusion that in future I SHALL DO NO MORE WORK ON A CREDIT. No exception will be made to this rule; friends as well as strangers are expected to pay cash or its equivalent on delivery.

DR. L. J. CZAPKAY'S

GRAND MEDICAL & SURGICAL INSTITUTE

SACRAMENTO STREET, BELOW MONTGOMERY,

Opposite Pacific Mail Steamship Company's Office, San Francisco.

Established in 1854, for the Permanent Cure of all Private and Chronic Diseases, and the suppression of quackery.

DR. L. J. CZAPKAY, late in the Hungarian Revolutionary War, Chief Physician to the 20th Regiment of Honveds, Chief Surgeon to the Military Hospital of Pesth, Hungary, and late Lecturer on diseases of Urinary Organs and Diseases of Women and Children returns his sincere thanks to his numerous patients for their patronage, and would take this opportunity to remind them that he continues to consult at his institute for the cure of all forms of Private Diseases—such as syphilis gonorrhœa, nocturnal emissions, and all the consequences of self-abuse. In the first stages of syphilitic or gonorhœal diseases, he guarantees a cure in a few days, without inconvenience to the patient or hindrance to his business. When a patient, by neglect or improper treatment, has developed the symptoms of secondary syphilis, such as bubos, or painful swellings of the groins, or ulcers in the throat or nose, which if not checked, destroy the soft parts and cause the bones to mortify, separate and come away, leaving the sufferer heideous to behold; or when blotches and pimples break out upon the skin, or when he has painful swellings upon the bones, or when his sonstitution is injured so as to predispose to consumption or constitutional diseases the Doctor guarantees a cure or asks no compensation.

In Rheumatism, chronic or acute, in Dysentery or Diarrhœa, he has safe and effectual remedies. For the treatment of the consequences of self-abuse, such as nocturnal emissions, nervousness, timidity, headache, pains in the back and limbs, with general weakness, loss of appetite, loss of memory, injury to the sight, restlessness, confusion of ideas, dislike for society, and a feeling of weariness of life, with the nervous system so excitable that slight noises shock or startle the patient, making his existence miserable. For the above maladies the Doctor will guarantee a cure or ask no compensation. He can be consulted free of charge, and invites all to call, as it will cost them nothing, and may be much to their advantage.

A Tribute to Merited Worth.

☞ A TESTIMONIAL, RICHLY MERITED.—The ingratitude of man to his fellow man is so often met with in life, that testimonials, prompted by the finer feelings of the heart, are oasis in the life of those who sacrifice their best days in philanthropic devotion to the alleviation of the ills of frail mortality. Empiricism floods the columns of our press with fraudulent and fictitious letters; singing pæans to the worth of their own egotistical charlatanism. Below we append a letter from a worthy man, who, a brief period since, seemed destined to "shuffle off this mortal coil;" who looked forward to his dissolution with that pleasure which only those weighed down by the heavy hand of disease can. Contrary to hope, the ability of a skillful physician has restored him to his former health. Relieved from his terrible situation, and impelled by gratitude, he makes known his case and remedial agent, and his statement is authenticated by a Notary Public. The demands of society imperiously command its publicity; and it is given more to warn the unwary than to sound the praises of a physician of whom scores of like cases can be cited:

CERTIFICATE.

The undersigned, desirous of acquainting those who may be unfortunate enough to be similarly afflicted, where a permanent relief of their sufferings may be obtained, feels it his duty to thus publicly express his most sincere gratitude to Dr. L. J. Czapkay for the permanent recovery of his health. Borne down by the distressing symptoms incident to the vicious practice of an uncontrollable passion in youth; depressed in body and mind; unable to perform even the most trifling duty imposed upon the daily avocations of life, I sought the advice of many physicians, who at first regarded my disease of trifling importance—but alas! after a few weeks, and in several instances months, of their treatment, I found to my unutterable horror, that instead of relief, the symptoms became more alarming in their torture; and being told by one that my disease being principally confined to the brain, medicines would be of little consequence, I despaired of ever regaining my health, strength and energy! and as a last resort and with but a faint hope, called upon Dr. Czapkay, who after examining my case, prescribed some medicine which almost instantly relieved me of the dull pain and dizziness in my head. Encouraged by this result, I resolved to place myself immediately under his care, and by a strict obedience to all his directions and advice, my head became clear, my ideas collected; the constant pain in my back and groins; the weakness of my limbs; the nervous reaction of my whole body on the slightest alarm or excitement; the misanthropy and evil forebodings; the self distrust and want of confidence in others; the incapability to study, and want of resolution; the frightful, exciting, and at times pleasurable dreams at night, followed by involuntary discharges, have all disappeared; and in fact, in two months after having consulted the Doctor, I felt as if inspired by a new life—that life which but a short time ago I contemplated to end by my own hand.

With a view to guard the unfortunate from falling into the snares of incompetent quacks, I deem it my duty to offer this testimony to the merit and skill of Dr. Czapkay, and recommend him to all who may stand in need of medical advice, being assured, by my own experience, that under his care a radical and permanent cure will be effected. B. F. FILMORE.

State of California, County of San Francisco, Subscribed and sworn before me, this 15th day of April, 1856. (Signed) JOHN MIDDLETON, [L. S.] Notary Public.

A CARD.—Prompted by an honest desire of my heart, I wish to lay before the public, a case which deserves a high commendation, not only as an act of scientific skill, but that of humanity also. About two years ago, I suddenly and from some cause unknown to me, was seized with a fit of epilepsy, which, owing to my inability to meet the expense consequent upon a thorough medical treatment, and the failures which I met with on attempting it, soon became such (as I was then led to believe) as to defy the skill of a physician. I was for awhile, while in pursuit of my calling, thrown down to the ground without the slightest warning, and although insensible to the agonies, I yet despised the miseries of my life, and soon learned to look upon those who would render me assistance or shelter me from danger as enemies who sought to prolong the misery of my existence. While in this state, and having previous to my affliction, tasted the sweets of life, I once more was induced to attempt seeking aid of a physician, and by recommendation, called upon Dr. L. J. Czapkay. I told him my circumstances, and my inability to reward him for all his services, regardless of which, however, he at once undertook the case, and with the blessing of God I was once more restored to perfect health. Unable to reward him for the boon which I enjoy at present, and yet conscious of my indebtedness, I consider it due to myself and to all afflicted, to make the case public, in order that those in need of medical advice may find a physician in whom every confidence can be placed.

Greatest Discovery of the Age.

GREAT BLESSING TO MANKIND!—Innocent but potent! Dr. L. J. Czapkay's Prophilacticum, (self-disinfecting agent,) a sure preventive against gonorrhœal and syphilitic diseases, and an unsurpassed remedy for venereal, scrofulous, gangrenous and cancerous ulcers, fœtid discharges from the vagina, uterus and urethra, and all cutaneous eruptions and diseases. As inoculation is a preventive against small-pox, so is Dr. L. J. Czapkay's Prophilacticum a preventive against syphilitic and gonorrhœal diseases. Although harmless in itself, it possesses the power of chemically destroying the syphilitic virus, and thereby saving thousands from being infected by the most loathsome of all diseases. Let no young man who appreciates health be without Dr. Czapkay's Prophilacticum. It is in very convenient packages, and will be found convenient to use, being used as a soap. Price $5. For sale at Dr. Czapkay's Private Medical and Surgical Institute, Sacramento Street, below Montgomery, opposite Pacific Mail Steamship Co.'s Office, San Francisco.

All orders must be addressed to L. J. Czapkay, M. D., San Francisco, California.
